

Lenovo R61, T61 Thinkpads

Lenovo, known for being the 'old workhorse' amongst laptops, has released two new models in its Thinkpad series, the R61 and T61, both with 14-inch wide screens.

The two models feature a top-cover roll cage with 20 percent more strength for added durability and an improved thermal management cooling and efficiency system. They boast enhanced wireless connectivity with Ultra Connect II and longer battery life through battery stretch-control options.

The notebooks offer several different connectivity options such as WWAN1 (on select T61 models) and WLAN with 802.11n technology, 2GB ethernet LAN, Bluetooth and modem. The aim is to simplify the wireless connectivity for road warriors.

The system design lowers temperatures by 10 percent and reduces the noise level by three decibels over previous Thinkpad notebooks. To keep costs down, Lenovo helps manage IT tasks with automatic updates, one-button system recovery and simple network connectivity.
