

New Peripherals Tips available for AC/DC Adapter

Announcement date: 28 April 2008

In January 2008 Lenovo announced the ThinkPad and IdeaPad 90W Slim AC/DC Combo Adapter. In addition to providing power to Lenovo notebooks from a standard AC wall outlet or the DC outlets available in airplanes and cars, this adapter can be used to power a range of peripheral devices. The range of supported peripheral devices has now been expanded with the announcement of two new tips to support selected Nokia and Sony Ericsson phones.

Highlights

With the announcement of the ThinkPad and IdeaPad 90W Slim AC/DC Combo Adapter in January, Lenovo launched a dual charging cable (41R4345) and ten peripherals tips that allowed for the notebook and a range of popular mobile phones, iPods and USB devices to be charged simultaneously. This earlier announcement included two tips that support some Nokia and Sony Ericsson mobile phones. Lenovo is now launching two additional tips that support additional mobile phones from these manufacturers.
